

Cruising the Costa del Sol

By Chloe De Landgraft

My boyfriend and I decided to head to Spain to cruise the Costa del Sol!!

We caught an Aer Lingus flight to Malaga. I had flown with them before and found them good enough to fly again.

When we got to Malaga we hired a car from Sixt as we had used them before and they didn't charge us for being under 25. Drove to Hotel Vincci (only 5 star hotel in Malaga) and booked in for the 3 nights.

My boyfriend and I spent the whole time driving the coast of the Costa del Sol which is a nice way to spend your time in Spain.

We also did a day trip to Seville which I thought was a lovely city with lots of history and an arty/creative feel to it.

Spain surprised me at how little English they speak there and how unclean the cities were due to poverty but it was a good culture experience.

Stay tuned we are heading back in July to attend the Running of the Bulls in July.
